Memorial of Easter. FROM REV. C. C. BITTING, D. D. He dies !- the Friends of sinners dies; Lo! Salem's daughters weep around, vertisers.

A solemn darkness veils the skies; A sudden trembling shakes the ground 2 Ye saicts, approach ! - the anguish view Of him who groans beneath your load: He gives his precious life for you;

For you he sheds his precious blood. Here's love and grief beyond degree; The Lord of glory dies for men; But, lo! what sudden joys we see! Josus, the dead, revives again.

The rising God forsakes the tomb; Up to his Father's cours he flies; Cherubic legious gand him home, And shout him walsome to the skies. Break off your tears, po saints, and tell

Sing how he spoiled the hosts of hell, And led the tyrant Death in chains, Sav, "Live forever, glorius King Born to redeem, and strong to save !"
Then ask, "O Death, where is thy sting And where thy victory, boasting grave?"

How high our great Deliverer reiges;

Mary's Easter. Easter lilies freshly bloom O'er the open, corquered tomb; Cups of incense, pure and fair, Pour oblations on the air. Easter glory sudden flaws, Though the portal none may close; Death and darkness flee away. Christ the Lord is risen to day!

Shining forms are sitting by, Where the tolded garments lie; Loving Mary knows no fear While the waiting angels hear. "They have taken my Lord away, Know ye where he lies to day?" Sweet thy answer to her cry, As their pinions pass her by.

See the Master stand to greet Her that weepeth at his feet. "Mary!" At the tender word Well she knows her risen Lord! All her love and passion breaks In the single word she speaks; Hear the sweet "Rabboni!" tell All her woman heart so well!

"Quickly go, and tell it out Unto others rounds about. Thou hast been forgiven much; Tell it, Mary, unto such. By thy love within thy heart. This my word to them impart; Death shall touch thy soul no more. Christ thy Lord hath gone before!'

Eggs as Food.-Eggs of various kinds, says "Cassell's Domostic Dictionary," are largely used as food for man, and it is scarcely possible to exaggerate their value in this car pacity, so simple and convenient are they in form and so manifold may be their transformations. They are exceedingly delicious, highly nutritious and easy of digestion, and when the shell is included they may be said to contain in themselves all that is required for the construction of the body. It has been claimed them for that they may be served in about six hundred ways, although it is generally found that the more simple they are prepared the more they are approved. Although other eggs than those of birds are eaten-for instance, turtles' aggsit is generally agreed that the eggs of the common fowl and of the plover possess the richest and sweetest flavor. The eggs of ducks and geese are frequently used in cookery, but they are of too coarse a nature to be eaten alone. The eggs of the turkey and of the pea hen are highly esteemed for some purposes.

The weight of the ordinary new laid hen's egg is from one and a half to two and a half ounce avoirdupois, and the quantity of dry solid matter contained in it amounts to about two hundred grains. In one hundred parts, about ten pacts consist of shell, sixty of white and thirty of yolk. The white of the egg contains a larger proportion of water than the yolk. It contains no fatty matter, but consists chiefly of albumen in a dissolved state. All the fatty matter of the egg is accumulated in the yolk, which contains relatively a smaller proportion of the nitrogenous matter, and a larger proportion of solid matter than the white. "herefore, in an alimen-tary point of view, the white and the yolk differ considerably from each other, the former being mainly a simple solution of albumen, the latter being a solution of a modified form of together with a quantity of fat * * * lightly boile 1 eggs are easy of digestion. said that raw eggs are more easily digested than cooked ones; but this may be doubted if the egy is not overcooked. Its properties are Demulcent, Nutritive, Bal-samic, Soothing and Healing. Combining all these qualities, it is the most effective LUNG BALSAM ever offered to sufferers from pulmonary diseases.

Dr. J. F. HAYWOOD, of New York, volun tarily indorees it. Read what he says:

New York, Sept. 19, 1877.

Dr. Tutt: Dear Sir—During this year I treated nine hundred cases of lung diseases. In the lower wards of the city the cases ware of a very severe type. It was there my attention was called to Tutt's Expectorant, and I confess my surprise at its wonderful power. During a practice of twenty years I have never known icine to act as promptly and with such happy effects. It instantly subdued the most violen fits of coughing, and invariably cured the disease in a few days. I cheerfully endorse it as the best lung medicine I ever used.

Do you have a fit of coughing on lying down? A sharp pain now and then in a region of the heart, shoulders and back?
